DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claim(s) 1-86, drawn to a finger-guided instrument.

Group II, claim(s) 87-95, drawn to surgical procedures.

2. The inventions listed as Groups I and II do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: the surgical procedures of Group II can be performed with instruments other than those in Group I. Therefore, the special features of the claimed instruments of Group I are not required for performing the claimed procedures of Group II.

3. This application contains claims directed to more than one species of the generic invention. These species are deemed to lack unity of invention because they are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

The species are as follows:

Species of Group II:

Each claim is a separate species, since none of the methods share an inventive concept.

Art Unit: 3731

Species of Group I:

- a. Sampling device (Figures 63-66)
- b. Anchor implanting device (Figures 68-74)
- c. Guiding instrument (Figures 34 and 35)
- d. Suturing device
 - i. Suturing device (Figures 1-19)
 - ii. Dual needle suturing device (Figures 20-31)
 - iii. Suturing device (Figures 47-61)

Applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single species to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. The reply must also identify the claims readable on the elected species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered non-responsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

4. The claims are deemed to correspond to the species listed above in the following manner:

- a. Sampling device – Claims 37-50.
- b. Anchor implanting device – Claims 51-59.
- c. Guiding instrument – Claims 60-70.
- d. Suturing device ***
 - i. Embodiment in Figures 1-19 corresponds to claims 1-18 and 71-79
 - ii. Dual needle suturing device – Claims 80-86
 - iii. Embodiment in Figures 47-61 corresponds to Claims 19-36

The following claim(s) are generic: None.

If applicant elects to Species D, applicant must further elect a subspecies (i, ii, iii). An example of a proper election would be Group I, Species D, subspecies iii.

The species listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, the species lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons: each specie is designed for a separate function and has different technical structures corresponding to its function. The general special feature of finger-mounting an instrument is known in the art, as evidenced by other patents US 5,925,064 and US 6,475,135. Since the prior art also discloses finger-mounted suturing devices and each of the subspecies of Specie D has different structures, they also lack the same special features.
